

Biosecurity Advisor

Purpose: To provide expert, practical biosecurity advice to key clients, helping prevent disease outbreaks, improve resilience, and support best-practice livestock protection.

What you'll do

- Manage and support a portfolio of key client accounts with evidence-based biosecurity guidance.
- Translate legislation, research and risk trends into clear, practical on-farm recommendations.
- Support the delivery of training, workshops and briefings for clients and internal teams.
- Support knowledge sharing and continuous development across the business to help maintain high-quality advisory delivery.
- Work with digital and R&D teams to improve our tools and services using real-world field insight.
- Represent Livetec at industry events, webinars and conferences, contributing to thought leadership and technical content.
- Keep clear records of activity and outcomes in our CRM system.

What you'll bring

- Strong knowledge of biosecurity, livestock protection and animal welfare (and confidence applying it on farm).
- Excellent communication skills: able to explain complex topics clearly and empathetically.
- Client-focused approach: professional, solutions-led and confident building trusted relationships.
- Confident delivering training and presenting to groups (in person and online).
- Organised and self-motivated, with strong IT skills and attention to detail.
